A Model Husband.

Extraordinary recital—one of Divorce—cruelty and brutality.—We find in the New Haven papers the report of last week given by Mrs Mary A Bennett, wife of Dr George Bennett, (said to have gained some notoriety and a good deal of money by the manufacture and sale of pill's) upon her application for a divorce on the ground of cruel treatment. We copy a small part of the testimony of Mrs B, any man who can be guilty of the conduct here imputed to this person, should have his deeds and character blazoned as far as the Press can carry them:

Testimony of Mrs Bennett.

Married 14th of May, 1849 age 18. Before I had been married four weeks my husband scolded and swore at me because I was going to get a summer bonnet. He asked me where I would get it, and said he wouldn't have none of mine —— extravagance. He required me to do the washing the next week after our marriage. I had not been accustomed to such business. He sent his sister would teach me. I attempted to build a fire on to help bring the water. He told me never to ask him again, if I child was only a few days old, that if I would let him give it a dose of laudanum, which would make it sleep forever, he would get me a beautiful piano. He was very unkind to the nurse and kept me crying. He got vexed at her two weeks after the birth, and told her to leave the next morning. She told him she would be glad to on this account, "but your wife, poor thing, I pity her." She left next day and I was left two or three days without a girl. Then he got a girl of sixteen to do the work and take care of the child. When my babe was a week old I had a broken breast. He took the babe off the bed and laid it on the floor, and then took the clothes off the bed and laid them on the babe, and then put the bed on top of all. The nurse found the babe in this condition, and she said she thought it was done by my husband to smother it. When my babe was four weeks old, we were going to move into the country and he wanted me to pack the thing up. I tried to but was not strong enough and his brother did it. The girl that I had would not go with us. I asked to wait another day to get one, but he would not. He took me away without a girl to New Rochelle. When we got there, it rained and I had to walk half a mile from the cars to the cottage which he had rented. The was Thursday and my babe was not three weeks old and I asked him to carry it. He would not, and I had no umbrella and at the same time I had a broken breast. The family were not out of the house and so we went to Port Chester. By this time the rain had turned to snow and I walked again to the station house carrying my babe. We returned to New Rochelle Monday morning. There were carriages there but my husband would not get me one, and walked again and carried my babe. The house needed whitewashing and clean ng but he would not allow me to have anything done except what I did myself. During the next three weeks I was alone and could not get any washing done and I did it myself, all my husband's, my own and the babe's. During the time he was in New York he told me he was clearing $50 per day. After we went to New Rochelle he required me to make the fires in the morning. When the babe was three months old while I was making the fire one morning I thought I would not go up till I had finished it. When I did I found him whipping it. Our girls would not stay because he was so unkind.

In the spring of 1851 we broke up housekeeping, and took board with Mr Austin, No 19 Cherry street. I had no servant but did all my work, washing and ironing, took care of my babe and kept the Doctor's books!—Sometimes he did not like the cooking and made me cook chickens on Mrs Austin's fire and bring them to him. Mrs A furnished the seasoning. When the bill was settled with Mrs A., he wanted me to have the meals deducted from the bill which he had failed of taking at her table, on account of the chicken cooking. I was washing one day in the basement when the Doctor came down stairs and told me the baby required attention. I crept up when he ordered me to pull off his boot and take it down stairs and clean it. I objected when he told me I should do it, and swore at me. He wiped his foot on the carpet and then said, "Now, —— you, I guess you will do it." I told him I was willing to do anything reasonable, and if we could take it off and wipe it I would wash it for him.—He emptied the coal hod on the carpet and I finally gathered up the coal and washed his foot for him. On one occasion he, in a fit of anger, dashed his hand into the looking glass and broke it into pieces. Frequently boxed my ears—kicked me for leaving a door open, and on one occasion, because I would not leave my babe in the care of a nurse at home and go to New York with him, came into my room, after I had retired to bed, and kicked the bedstead down, was in the habit cursing me for the most trivial occurrences.

"SHARED, AS WITH A VERY INCH."—The President's retrospect of his Kansas embroglio, and his affected case of conscience thereon, reminds us of an incident occurring in one of our New England towns, a few years back. A certain political Judge, who had been as far south as Washington, and seen a little of slavery in some of its mildest aspects, was descanting upon it to a group of listeners at his public boarding house, during one of the sessions of court, a day after his return. Among other things, he took occasion to remark, quite complacently, that he saw nothing so very bad about the system, and that his conscience wouldn't trouble him at all, even in holding slaves. A member of the Bar, of few words, and rather quaint, heard him through, and, with a peculiar turn of his head, much to the amusement of the crowd and the discomfiture of the Judge, quietly remarked "It is a sign, Judge, the thing is scared."

So, it seems to us, must the President's conscience be a thing long ago seared, or he could not glory in its own shame as he appears to do in his falsified Kansas history.

The New York Tribune says:—"In a vast town house down town, among so many of merchants yet unfledged, there is not one who exhibits greater business intelligence, integrity, energy and tact, not one who is more popular with employer and employed, or gives higher promise of becoming a shining commercial light, than the son of one who will wear the belt of one of the oldest earldoms in Ireland. There might, too, have been seen recently on our Rialto, plying a graceful trade in the meerschaum and cheroot line, the brother of another popular Irish peer who, though he is said to prefer the lighter arts of cricket and of ache: to a heavier toil will doubtless carve a fortune out of this new world."

Julia Smith, a professional thief, was arrested in Cincinnati, Ohio, recently, and under her hoops were found carefully stowed, three towels, two table cloths, one looking-glass, three tumblers, one pair of pants, and a quart bottle of Madeira.

Churches and City Missionaries.

(Concluded.)

Another objection to this plan is, "them is nobody to do the work." Men are so engaged in their business, women in their domestic occupations, they cannot devote the necessary time to the labor." We cannot answer this objection. Every man's and woman's conscience must answer for himself or herself, whether it be true in their individual cases. But we believe that in the great majority of cases there must be some way to answer it, for we believe it to be a divine command to "visit the fatherless and widow." Therefore it must be a possibility. We do not, of course, insist that the command must be obeyed in one particular way. Nor would we intimate that individual Christians do not now perform much of this labor. Notwithstanding the above objection, which we often hear urged, and which certainly implies something of the sort, as an opinion, somewhere, we trust and believe there are many in this place whose charity is deep as the dew—as teachingly, as refreshingly, as silently! And the thought will force itself upon us, how much more good might those charities effect were they systematized and combined with so many others!

But has the boasted civilization of the nineteenth century indeed brought us to this? That our manifold appliances of comfort and luxury demand, in their preparation, all our time? Then away with them! Farther than eye can reach, or imagination can extend! And lead us back to the dens and caves of the earth! Give us the skins of wild beasts for our clothing! Give us the uncooked fruits of the earth for our food!

But we are not yet brought to this strait. We need relinquish but a moiety of our civilizations and luxuries. Let us each ask ourselves candidly, searchingly, prayerfully, what should be?

Man of business! ask your wife what little luxuries of dress, of amusement, of food, she or her children will dispense with, as a special favor to you, that you may redeem precious time from the wear and tear of business, for the more immediate service of Him who gave it to you! Woman of industry! of manifold, and harassing, and never-ending cares, (as who does not know that a woman's are,) ask yourself what indulgence in elegance, in taste, which occupies those moments so swiftly "passing away," you will sacrifice to those who never dream of taste or elegance, but only of substantials!

We ask no sacrifice of the "Christian grace of neatness," (Thanks to the author of that virtue word!") It is a sacred symbol of cleanliness and purity within, and we love to fancy (is it a fancy?) that that never exists without clothing itself in that beautiful garment.

We ask no sacrifice of the utmost equality "Christian grace" of Order. That is a symbol of harmony, and balance of the mind's and soul's faculties. And one in whom it is inborn, can no more move or exist without it, than color can exist without light. And then, too, we know that it is beautiful and good, because it is written on the face of all nature. If God cannot act without order, we, surely need not.

We ask no sacrifice of maternal care or vigilance. And of those with whom the question is the all-absorbing one, "What is to be done with our Charley?" we ought not, perhaps to ask anything, until the "Charleys" grow up to be good and discreet youths.

But we ask you to assume closely your little superfluities of ornament, your embroideries, your fancy nettings and knittings, to which you devote at least some time, and see if there is not something you could be relinquish, with, after all, little serious detriment to taste or elegance, (for these are not to be despised,) and make your own as well as somebody's else heart "sing for joy," by giving the time to some sick or distressed "neighbor." (We use the word in the gospel sense.) Ah! if all—i. e. every Christ an man and woman in Bangor, would give up something to their brother, it would not come hard upon any one.

We have spoken of woman's engaging in this work. We protest against her not doing it! "Last at the cross, first at the sepulchre," as some one has beautifully said, she must be better fitted for this ministry of healing than they whom greater intercourse with the world and its warfarenesses has, in a measure, seared and indurated. Let her do it, because she is better fitted! Let man do it, to fit himself better! Of course, no one objects to this labor for woman, if well considered. But we here are thin among us as "dyed in the wool" of conservatism, as to object to the particular form of it we are considering, because it would bring her into an organization with men, we would say to them—"You may have all the legislating, all the judging, all the political emoluments, all the preaching,—but you shall not have all the blessing!"

That which "dropeth as the gentle rain from heaven" which is "mightiest in the mightiest," which "becomes the throned monarch better than his crown," by the fiat of Almighty God, is more ours than it is yours, and you cannot, if you dared, take it from us!

Another objection is, that individuals who do not give their whole time to this ministry, (especially women,) would be liable to be more easily imposed upon than a City Missionary. We believe that by practice individuals might so train themselves, that this would not be true. But we will only ask, in answer to this objection—What if they were imposed upon, most egregiously, every week? Would it prove that these souls could grow and flourish without this aid? The only aspect in which this "imposition," we hear so much about, can be so very grievous, is the encouragement of sin in the person who practices it. Waste of good things as it is, we have no right to pay much attention to it in any other phase. Better waste food and clothing than our soul's "peace," for we must surely do when we withhold our hands from dispensing Christian charity. For souls or poorly soul insurance a good hand for legislation.

Various Items.

STEAM PIPE BURNING.—The N. O. Picayune says: In a city item yesterday we were told that a "stove pipe" took fire! We have heard of pipes that set fire, or blew up, but none that caught fire. They are bustible but not combustible.

"Well, Mr. Rushard, how does my son get along with his grammar?" "He surpasses any pupil that I ever had." "In what does he chiefly excel, sir?" "In stupidity, sir."

POETS often expressed the opinion that a certain miser would take the beam out of his own eye, if he thought he could sell the timber.

The editor of the Oswego Palladium had four turkeys and about a barrel of pickled oysters sent him on Thanksgiving day.

PUREST TEST OF GOODNESS.—THE TEST OF A GOOD HUSBAND.—Look at the key hole of the latch key on the street door. If the paint is not rubbed off two or three inches round it, if the edges are as sharp and clean as when the door was first painted, you may be sure that it is a truthful indication of a good husband, who is most regular, and so early as scarcely ever to have occasion to use his latch key; or supposing he does is so accurate in his aim as to be able to hit the key-hole the very first time of aiming at it. How many husbands, who go home late, would be able to do the same?

The Hon Robert Crane has introduced a bill into the Mississippi Legislature, providing for the expulsion of free negroes, or their "economic subjection."

This is the latest phrase for slavery.

The Wesleyan Methodists, of Canada, have selected several clergymen of their denomination as missionaries, for the recently discovered gold regions on Fraser's River. There are no better fields for missionary labors than gold fields.

Henry Ward Beecher drew such an audience at the Mechanics' Hall, Worcester, to hear his lecture on Sympathy, that seven hundred dollars were taken at the door. The single lecture paid the expenses of all the lectures for the whole course.

At the post Heine's funeral, in accordance with the last wishes of the deceased, no speeches were delivered. In a little poem, "Memento Mori," he expressed the wish somewhat thus:

"O! let no mass be sung,
No ritual read,
In silence lay me down
Amongst the dead.

"Enough, if, when returns
My burial day,
Mathilde, in mourning clad,
Shall come to pray

"Enough, if, whilst her cheeks
The tear drops lave,
With feet transported be
The small dock my grave."

A CONUNDRUM IN ART.—A dump caster strayed into the square in front of City Hall yesterday morning and planted his bragers firmly in front of the bronze statue of Franklin, looking upward to the benignant face of the old philosopher with great apparent interest.

"What old feller's likeness is that?" asked he of a bystander.

"That, sir, is a statue of Benjamin Franklin."

"Statue of Franklin, eh! well I've read all about him. Putty good old feller in his way. Never fit much in the revolushun, but was great on soft soldiers' the French. But I say, yeou! How DARNED TALLER HE WAS!"—Boston Herald.

Mr. Buchanan's recent letter deprecating "the employment of money to carry elections," has produced a most agreeable sensation among the employees of the Government, who have been habitually taxed to do what the President so much deprecates. They have died away a copy of the Du Quesne Butter, so that when another assessment shall be ordered, such as was recently levied to promote the success of Mr. Clancy Jones, the rebuke will be produced as a justification for refusal.

We never have heard of but one instance in which the public treasury was overpaid.—Honest old Stephen Cahoone, whose venerable form and face spoke the integrity of his character, was the general treasurer of this State. On settling his accounts, which in those days were kept after the old fashion and very much like a Cape Cod skipper, who puts his freight money into a stocking, pays his crew and port charges out of it, and hands the balance to his owners, he found that he had $5000 over.—He could not ascertain from his books where it came from, but he knew that it did not belong to him, and that it must belong to the State. So he paid it over, telling the General Assembly to take the money, adding that if any of them could tell him how it came into his possession, he would be much obliged to them, for he did not know and could not find out. Not much investigation was made, the error being on the right side, and nobody knew how the $5000 came into the treasury, till the Democratic Senator from Providence, being of an annoyed turn of mind, smelled the blunder and showed how it happened.—Providence Journal.

GRAHAM JONES may be inquired of as to the Testimony of Witnesses in the Grand Jury Room.—In the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, in Boston, on Saturday, an opinion was delivered in the case of Thomas Mead, convicted of manslaughter in killing Jeremiah Agin at Allen's saloon, Court street, over a year since. The exceptions taken were on the ground that the testimony of a Grand Juror, which was offered by the defence, was ruled out by the Court on the ground that a member of that body could not testify in regard to occurrences in the Grand Jury room. The Court omits and the exceptions and ordered the case back to the municipal Court for a new trial.

The Princess Mathilde Bonaparte has received from the Sultan a most superb prayer carpet, the value of which is reported to be between three and four thousand pounds.—The phrases from the poets which form the border, such as "Rose of the Garden," "Bud of Delights," &c., are woven in pearls and emeralds into the cloth of gold of which the carpet is composed, while the sentence from the Koran which occupies the centre is composed of diamonds.

M. Dumas senior took ill late his head to walk out on the ice in his shirt sleeves while at St. Petersburg. The thermometer was a great many degrees below zero. He was seized on his return home with a violent fever, and for six hours his life was despaired of; nevertheless his hardy constitution got the better of the fever, and he has now gone on a visit to Siberia. He will be back in May.

MARINE.—Brig Lucy W. Angier, of (Belfast, Me.) at New York from Turks Island, lost main boom, had sails split, and sustained other damages.

LOSS OF MONEY from schooner Mary Fletcher, on the passage from Philadelphia to Bucport, 1st instant., Wm. Barrett, seaman, at Bucport aged 20.

A returned Californian at Albany, a most immediately on his arrival a few nights since, made the acquaintance of a young lady with blue eyes and a fur cape. Young lady invited him to see her home and take tea with her.—He took tea with the young lady, and started for hotel. Arriving at hotel he found that a wallet containing $166 was missing. He allows that he "has seen the elephant," and does not wish another look.

One of the members of the Indiana Legislature is named Lambkin! He ought to make a good hand for legislation.

GODEY'S BOOK for January.—A splendid number for the New Year is presented by Mr. Godey. A magnificently engraved little page, with three splendid steel plate engravings—108 pages reading matter—eleven full length figures of fashions—and 53 different articles, embracing the greatest variety of entertaining and useful matter. The superb title page is entitled "The Seven Ages of Woman," and is a most beautiful specimen of art. This, as well as the other splendid engravings in the Lady's Book, are engraved, it should be remembered, expressly for that magazine, and can be obtained in no other way except in its pages.

THE TRUE PHILOSOPHERS, or the Laughable Gems of Words Rewinkled. By Christopher Hotler A. B., Esem: F. S. Works & Co.

This is a new and amusing game, which we should judge might become very popular with the young people. It is played with cards, to the number of 160,—on which are inscribed various nouns, verbs, adjectives and prepositions—capable of several thousand different combinations, and when played by chance, producing very ludicrous sentences.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

LENTEN THANKSGIVING.—Our citizens will not forget the Ladies' Levee at the Union St. (Methodist) Church, this evening. The social gatherings at this place have hitherto been occasions of great enjoyment, and very fully attended. Oysters, ice creams, &c. will be furnished for the refreshment of the "physical" nature, and the intellectual will also be provided for.

The Levee of the Ladies of the Universalist Society last evening, at Norombega, was fully attended, and one of the happiest affairs ever enjoyed in that ample and beautiful hall.—The music was excellent, the refreshments nice, the dancing first rate, and the ladies' smiles a full quid pro quo for all the outlay.

RIVER ORNAMENTED ABOVE.—The steaming Tartar, Capt Snow, broke a channel through the ice in the river yesterday, and brought up schooner Eclipse, to the mouth of Kenduskeag stream.

MESSRS A. L. & R. G. BORD foot of Hammond street, keep constantly supplied with the choicest confectionery, nuts, fruit &c, which they are prepared to sell at wholesale or retail at the lowest prices—they also keep supplied with fresh oysters put up by James Freeman of Portland.

LADIES' LEVEE.—The Levee at Norombega Hall, last evening, was a perfect success, not only in numbers but in substantial results in the shape of cash. There was a large crowd in attendance, and the evening was passed pleasantly by all. The Ladies of the Universalist Society never fail of a good time when they undertake an affair of this kind. At the close of the Levee, the dancers enjoyed themselves for an hour or two, when the company broke up. The music was an interesting feature of the occasion, and was very creditable to the performers.

OLDTOWN HIGH SCHOOL.—We understand that the citizens of Oldtown have procured the services of David Worcester, Esq., of this city, for the winter session of their High School which commences next Monday. Mr. Worcester has never had a superior in the city as a teacher, and we congratulate our friends in Oldtown on the acquisition which they have made for the furtherance of their educational interests during the winter months. Times.

MUSICAL.—The Haydn Association of Portland will present the Oratorio of the Messiah, on Christmas evening.

DESTRUCTIVE TO BEAVERS.—The State of Maine, says the "snow-suden" of Tuesday in that city, were especially troublesome. One milk "ping" was the receptacle of an avalanche from the top of a slate roof, the cans were well packed and rendered considerable "excavation" necessary. Another unfortunate individual had his hat driven close down to his shoulders by a slide, and rendered its removal very much like "skinning an eel," only more destructive, from the fact that the poor fellow's nose caught in the lining, and completely gutted the interior of the beaver.

There is now good sleighing in the vicinity, and our people are improving it, to the best of their ability. The lumberman are actively engaged fitting out teams for the woods.—Anson Advocate.

THE POETRY OF CARPET SWEEPING.—Among the novelties of the Atlantic cable times, is one pertaining to household economy worthy of special mention. It consists of a tin box with a neat handle, which, if you draw or push over your carpet, absorbs, in an unseen way, its dust, dirt, and litter, doing the work more effectually, and probably with less injury to the carpet, than the most expertly wielded broom, while unlike the broom no rising of dust proclaims its presence. The secret lies in the arrangement of a revolving brush moved by the act of pushing or drawing the box.—The dirt is taken into compartments of the box prepared for the purpose, without giving it a chance to spread itself and settle again in the room.—N. Y. Sun.

S. H. Gordon has them for sale at the store of Wm Lewis, Main street.

The annual sermon before the Female Charitable Society, is expected from Rev. Dr. Chickering next Sabbath evening, at High Street Church.—Portland Advertiser.

QUITE AN ITEM.—We were much pleased to receive a call from our friend G. W. Currie, Esq., of Tobique, N. B., last week. In the course of conversation, he informed us that during the past summer he had sold 600 bbls. of flour, at least 600 of which had been sold to the people of Aroostook. He also informed us that Mr Beveridge, of the same place, had sold 1000 bbls; one half of which, at least, had been sold to Aroostook people, making eleven hundred barrels of flour sold to Aroostook by three two gentlemen alone, during the last six months. This is but one little item of the trade of this region, the profits of which go to benefit New Brunswick rather than our own State, and which must be enormously increased as this vast region becomes populated, and which must also be permanently lost to Maine unless some method is devised to retain it.—Aroostook Pioneer.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, 9th.

SENATE.—A report was presented from the Sec. of State communicating an abstract of the registered seamen which was ordered to be printed.

Various memorials were presented but they were generally of an unimportant character except one from the legislature of Minn., asking an appropriation for the improvement of the Minnesota river and for St Croix river and for land for railroads. Adjourned.

The Senate Committees have not been announced.

HOUSE. The speaker announced the standing committees. Mr. Morris of Ill., gave notice of his intension to introduce a bill providing for the election of Governors and Judges by the people in the organized territories.

Also a bill to admit sugar and salt free of duty, and a bill to amend the naturalization laws.

The report of the judiciary committee in the case of Judge Watrous was then taken up—Mr Ready of Tenn., wanted a postponement until next Thursday in order to enable the members time to look into the case. Mr Houston of Alabama said if this case which involved impeachment is to consume the time of the Senate that body ought at once to be enabled to take the initiatory steps on the subject; therefore he was opposed to postponement.

Mr Craige of North Carolina remarked that the facts and evidence covered 2000 pages and members should have an opportunity to look into it. Mr John Cochrane of New York, thought the case claimed a comptelentary and proper decision and now was the time to prepare for it.

Mr Reagan of Texas hoped the House would not postpone the case from day to day, as the effect might be to defeat action on the subject this session.

After further debate, the House refused to postpone, and proceeded to the consideration of the subject.

Mr Clingman of Pa. remarked that two memorials had been sent to the House, asking for the impeachment of Judge Watrous of Texas, and proceeded to review the facts and testimony in the case, involving charges that he was seriously engaged in land speculations showing a degree of official misconduct which admits of no excuse; and a gross assertion of his judicial powers. Not only did he arrogate to act in cases covering his own private interests, but to remove others to New Orleans, to be placed beyond the reach of Texas jurors and litigants.

Mr Chapman believed that confidence in Judge Watrous administration has been shaken to its foundation, and he owed it to himself and the purity of the judiciary to ask no longer to avoid a trial which he should neither demand or resign. The duty of the House was simply to ascertain whether there is probable cause. It was not for the House to enquire whether he is innocent or guilty.—That was for the senate to determine.

Mr Tappan of N H, was opposed to the impeachment of Judge Watrous. He asked the House to examine the evidence, and not be diverted from the proper lines of proceedings by outside pressure. On that evidence alone he wanted them to say whether Watrous was innocent or guilty. Five resolutions of the Legislature of Texas in condemnations of his conduct grew out of his decision touching the statute of limitations and affecting the pockets of that State, which decision was sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States. He said there was no evidence to show that Watrous contemplated acting as judge of his own cases, and that in the purchase of land he has none of his rights as a citizen of Texas.

Judge Watrous had done nothing to prevent him from coming from this ordeal without even a smell on his garments. Instead of condemning the evidence showed that Watrous promptly disdained it at he had an interest in certain cases in connection with which charges were brought against him.

Mr Lappan entered into a general defence of Watrous relying upon the printed evidence for its purpose.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, 9th.

The legislature of Minnesota, with high appreciation of the liberality of Congress, presented to-day, through Senator Rice, a memorial asking for and to construct a wagon road from Lake Superior to the south pass of the Rocky Mountains, and also a large number of appropriations for internal improvements.

Chas S Justis the Democratic caucus nominee for doorkeeper of the Senate was elected to-day by 31 votes. 12 Republicans voted for Lewis Chapman the clerk of the National Era office, 4 votes were also cast for two other gentlemen. The Democratic senators in caucus have arranged the standing committees.—The most important change is the substitution of Mr Green for Mr Douglas as chairman of the Committee on Territories.

The Supreme Court met to-day. Chief Justice Taney and Justices Catron, Daniel, Nelson, Grier, Clifford and Campbell were present.

The Indian Bureau has received a letter from Dr Forney, Superintendent of Indian affairs for Utah. About the 1st November he returned from Humboldt River to Salt Lake City, whither he went to enquire about the robbery of the mail and other outrages. He found the Indians guilty, but in a destitute and very degraded condition and ready to make restitution and enter into a treaty to obey the laws of the United States.

It is said that the Nicaragua filibusters have their rendezvous somewhere in the Florida Keys. There is little if any doubt that the steamer Fashion, which left Mobile on the 1st inst., professedly for Texas, carried out a large number of them together with ammunition. Our government is not kept fully advised of their plans and movements.

New Orleans papers of Friday state that at the U. S. District Court at Key West, has decreed the condemnation of the bark Lyon and her cargo, the vessel having been seized on suspicion of having been fitted out for the slave trade.

News by the Overland Mail.

ST. LOUIS, 8th.

The overland mail with California dates of 12th ult, has arrived here. Four through passengers came with it, among whom is Mr Wm C Jewett who furnishes the following summary news. The camels which arrived from Fort Tejon had all been recovered. The Alta Express Co. had failed, leaving the whole field to Wells, Fargo & Co. Mr Buchanan's letter to Butler, said was considered as a guarantee of the administration in favor of the Pacific railroad.

The Supreme Court had decided that the Governor can change at his sentence to longer or shorter imprisonment. Thomas O Larkin's will was published; he leaves property with upwards of half a million.

Geo. Penn Johnson, who being acquitted in the Marine Court for killing Senator Ferguson in a duel, had been arrested in San Francisco on the same charge.

Mr Jewett's object in making the trip was for personal observation, and with a view to effect the construction of a railroad to the Pacific by a southern route, through a central national belt. His plans are already in Washington.

Additional News by the Quaker City.

NEW ORLEANS, 9th.

We have the following additional news by steamer Quaker City, which arrived at this port yesterday, with San Francisco dates of 30th.

The State had sued Wells, Fargo & Co, for the $32 000 of the $90,000 in scrip sto en from the Treasurer.

Mining was good, rain much needed, and cattle were suffering for want of feed.

The application for appointment of a receiver for the new Almaden mines had been denied by the riders court, and an injunction continued.

Rents were shrinking, and houses were scarce.

Business has improved, but markets generally unsettled.

Escape of Filibusters.

MOBILE, Dec. 9.

The schooner Susan escaped on Tuesday afternoon. The cutter McClelland was aground in Navy Cove, and when she got off, the schr. was about 400 miles away. The filibusters here are greatly elated.

The Telegraph Office and most of Springfield block at Cairo, Ill., were destroyed by fire last night.

The extensive brush factory of J G McMurray & Co., at Lansingburg, caught fire this afternoon and is now in ruins. Some 200 hands are thrown out of employment.

8 P. M.—The fire has spread to adjoining buildings and is still raging. Our firemen have been sent for, and a number of companies have gone up.

Fires! Success in No 11, R. 3.—Mr Jarvis Jackson moved his family on to his claim in Township No. 11, R. 3, last week. Mr Jackson is therefore the first settler in that township. We are informed that it is an excellent settling township, which ought to be surveyed for settlement early in the spring.—Aroostook Pioneer.

On Sunday night last a fire was discovered in Mr Sherman's office, under a portion of the Journal rooms. The fire was discovered by the city watch, and the alarm raised and the fire extinguished just in season to prevent a destructive conflagration.—Kennebec Journal

ROBBERY IN A YEARN.—The vestry of the Third Parish Church was entered, by way of a rear window, on Monday last; the book case which contained the library and the contribution boxes of the Sabbath School, was cut open and most of the boxes rifled of the gifts of the Sabbath school pupils, which had been collecting for six months past. A lad of the appearance of 14 or 15 years of age was seen about noon on Monday to pass through the yard door of the premises of Mrs Graley, on Pearl street, towards the vestry, and subsequently, to return by same way. This lad was, undoubtedly, the one who committed the robbery.—Portland Argus.

DISASTER.—Sch Gazelle, Pettengill, of and from Portland for Boston, with 80,000 feet of lumber for E Robinson & Co. of Malden, went ashore night of 4th inst, upon Stage Island, easterly from Cape Porpoise harbor, and will be about a total loss; sails, and rigging saved. The cargo has been partly saved, and sold as it lies. No insurance on vessel or cargo.

Bark Harriet S. Fisk, of Rockland; at New York from Matanzas, had heavy weather,—On 1st inst. lat. 34, lon. 72, passed large quantities white pine lumber.

Tug-boat Resolute, which arrived at Newport 7th inst, reports passing 6th, off Ryker's Island, head of Long Island Sound, a brig, lumber laden, with bowsprit, outwater and head gear carried away. Had been in collision with a propeller, name not stated, night of the 4th inst, during the weather that prevailed at that time.

Brig Louisa, Teague, at Baltimore from Bangor, experienced heavy weather, and lost part of deck load. On Saturday night got ashore on the flatters, but came off same night without damage.

LINCOLN'S

WATER PROOF BLACKING,

AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your feet dry and you will seldom need a Physician.

Is it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leathers often wet and dried it soon becomes hard, stiff, and coarse, but when it is water-proof this is remedied By the application of this preservative, it remains soft and is entirely impervious to water

After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experimenting on different compositions, and I find in any to make it water proof, but at the same time retaining its virtue to the leather At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonizes with the astringent properties with which leather is tanned It will not only make leather water-proof, but like wise soft to the leather, and it will Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years and a large part of that time have worked in a wet Tannery with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time I can therefore in all confidence recommend it to the public as the best article in the market

THE LUXURY AND PROFIT OF HONEY MAKING.

Torrey's Bee Hive.

THE subscriber, having purchased the right of making and selling Dorus' Patent Bee Hive for the Counties of Penobscot, Lincoln and Aroostook, which has been received with so much favor, and taken the first premiums wherever exhibited has introduced an improvement into the Bee Hive and is now prepared to make the same in connection with the Dorus Platform, and to sell rights to towns and individuals

This Bee Hive, thus improved, is admitted by persons acquainted with the honey-making business to be superior to every thing yet invented for the purpose It covers all the requisitions for the profitable maintenance of the apiary, by providing for ventilation at all seasons of the year—room for the ingress and feet of the bees—convenience for the removal of basement, for the proper separation of the swarms, and generally for the health and comfort of the workers

The boxes used in this Hive for storing honey, are the best adapted in their size, for the market, holding from three to six pounds each

The subscriber wishes to purchase one hundred swarms of bees in exchange for bee hives and individual rights.

For sale, fifty swarms of Bees, with the new hives

For hives, individual rights, &c, address

HAVING purchased the Patent for the exclusive right to manufacture and sell the Chemical Paper in America, invented and patented in England by HENRY GLYNN, a celebrated chemist and officer in the British army, it is hardly necessary to say that the Paper is recommended by Mr Kent, Assayer of the U S Mint, Mr Lyman of the New York Clearing House, and Messrs Brothers, extensive and skillful photographers, 233 Broadway, N Y The latter say that no imitation can be made on a check or bank note prepared on the Safety Paper. Below is our list of prices,

All State and County Records should always be printed or written on this paper, as the chemicals inserted in the pulp not only prevents erasure or transfer, but makes it lasting as time.

For Southern climates it is excellent, and much superior to any other, as the moisture of the climate does not destroy it,—the properties inserted in the pulp being a preventive In all the Southern States, Cuba, the West Indies, and the Central American States, no public records can be kept over 20 years, written on the ordinary paper, which the oils and other chemicals inserted in this paper makes it indestructible by the ravages of time It is also proof against moths, rats and other vermin, which feast on and destroy all other paper now in use

The Company have now in operation Mills in Morris County, N J., of about 300 horse power, and are able to fill all orders for Paper at the shortest notice
